

Who should take this course?

The course is intended for staff of inter-governmental and non-governmental organisations, humanitarian practitioners and other professionals who want to gain basic knowledge about human rights in humanitarian response. You can expect to spend 4-6 hours per week on the course.

Human Rights in Humanitarian Action and Disaster Relief (Foundation Course)

3 September-14 October 2014

Register now!

This e-learning course introduces participants to the underlying principles of humanitarianism and the realities and challenges of the sector. You will learn about many of the practical aspects of humanitarian work and the unique conditions of working in humanitarian crises.

In this 6-week course, participants will:

Interact with participants and the instructor in discussion forums and live webinars

Access resources to read, watch, or browse

Assess learning through quizzes and assignments

Earn a certificate of completion for meeting the requirements

After the course, participants will be able to:

- understand the structure of the humanitarian system;
- identify the vulnerabilities of people affected by disaster;
- analyse the critical and emerging challenges facing the humanitarian sector;
- assess the humanitarian sector from a rights-based perspective.

www.hrea.org

Tuition fee for participants: US$ 575; for auditors: US$ 215

Since 2002, over 9,000 professionals have successfully participated in HREA's e-learning courses.

HREA — the global human rights education and training centre